CME

Claim VAM19 CME

The Society for Vascular Surgery develops and implements balanced and relevant Continuing Medical Education (CME) programs that enhance physician competence in patient care, physician performance, or patient outcomes in vascular health care. SVS is dedicated and committed to assisting physicians to achieve the highest quality of vascular health care for their patients through continuing professional education. The Society for Vascular Surgery offers a variety of educational programs available for Continuing Medical Education (CME) credit. The SVS also provides a wide range of educational offerings for trainees. The Society for Vascular Surgery is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education to provide continuing medical education for physicians.