Criteria

Candidates for the Society for Vascular Surgery® (SVS) Medal for Innovation in Vascular Surgery must be individuals whose contribution has had a transforming impact on the practice or science of vascular surgery.

Eligibility

Eligibility for the award is open to professionals in the specialty of vascular surgery, vascular medicine, or vascular research. This includes vascular surgeons, other medical and surgical professionals, and non-surgeons involved in vascular research or clinical vascular care. Candidate does not need to be a member of the SVS.

An individual may be nominated on a singular innovation or a body of work. If two or more individuals have contributed to the advance, the award will be made to both individuals.

Nomination Procedures

Medal for Innovation in Vascular Surgery

Published on Society for Vascular Surgery (<https://vascular.org>)

- Candidates must be nominated by a member of SVS. No individual may nominate himself or herself for the award.
- A completed nomination form along with a CV and description of the innovation are required for consideration.
- The SVS Distinguished Fellows Council will review the nominations and serve as the selection committee for the award.
- Although a Call for Nominations will be made annually, the award need not be given each year. The award will be presented during the SVS Annual Meeting. Recipients of the SVS Medal for Innovation in Vascular Surgery are not excluded from receiving the Lifetime Achievement Award.
