Call for SVS Volunteers for Task Force on Population Health

SVS is currently seeking volunteers to serve on a task force on population health. Below is information on the task force objectives, expectations, content and deliverables. Please respond by Thursday, October 8, 2020.

Objectives
The primary objective of the Population Health Task Force is to explore the strategic role and position of vascular surgery in achieving patient-centered, value-based, team-based, multidisciplinary delivery systems that address vascular population health. The task force will focus on examining vascular health across the life span to address disparities, explore innovative payment models, and improve population level vascular health delivery and outcomes.

Expectations and Deliverables
Participate in monthly conference calls
Examine SVS member focus group/survey data
Participate in development of a white paper and/or set of strategic recommendations that includes a literature review on vascular population health
Develop a draft strategic blueprint for vascular population health programs and initiatives with the SVS Clinical Practice Council and external population health experts and consultants

Content Areas for Blueprint for Vascular Health
Vascular Health Disparities; age, ethnicity, gender and geography (urban/rural).
Value Based Care Models that encompass vascular health issues across populations
Education; An adaptable population health curriculum and educational resources for vascular surgery residents, fellows and practicing vascular with external population health consultants
Multi-specialty Consensus and Engagement; Explore potential of a national consensus conference across medical specialties on a national vascular population health strategy

Applying for the Population Health Task Force
To be considered for the task force, please complete the application which includes a brief statement (100 words or less) on your interest and experience in vascular population health initiatives. Please submit your application along with a CV/bio sketch to Nadine Caputo at ncaputo@vascularsociety.org. Also provide any relevant potential conflict of interest (COI) you may have per SVS Conflict of Interest (COI) policy.